

QUOTH, THE RAVEN

“Quoth the Raven is a point-and-click puzzle game where you play as Edgar Allan Poe’s mischievous pet raven wreaking havoc through the streets of 1800’s Baltimore to help provide inspiration for Poe’s stories.”

Quoth is an upcoming game for PC and mobile, currently in development by a small team of dedicated students. We are focusing on clever point-and-click mechanics, a dark sense of humor, and the macabre Victorian flair that defined Poe’s writing. On this site, you can learn more about the game and our team, and you can play it right here when it is released in December!
